PEDESTRIANS NOT using crosswalks endanger their own lives, as well as motorists, is the warning given to a violator by Sgt. Bob Young, who is in charge of the traffic department of the Palm Springs Police department. Residents and visitors are urged to use every safety precaution during S-D Day tomorrow, keep the Village accident free.

Hotel-Apartment Ass'n Discusses Plan for Bureau

Plans for establishing a hotel reservation bureau for members of the Hotel and Apartment Association were discussed last night at a committee meeting at Chuckwalla Manor, owned by Adele Colgan, association president.

Present were: Stanley Doyle, of Bonaire Village, committee chairman; John Miller, of Monte Vista Hotel and Apartments; J. Otto O'Dell, of Sahara Apartments, and Harry Bogart of Laurita Lodge.

The committee voted in favor of establishing the bureau to service the 130 association members, and will present a full report at a general membership meeting scheduled in about a week to 10 days.

Any hotel owner wishing to become a member of the association is asked to contact Mrs. Colgan at 5465.

Wide-Spread Hunt Seeking Bishop Clues

New clues in the unsolved 18-month-old murder of Redlands University accountant Roland S. Bishop, 51, piled into Redlands police department from Los Angeles, Palm Springs, and Arizona through the combined efforts of Redlands police, Riverside County Sheriff's, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Chief of Police Wesley Brown, of Redlands, received word that the lead is growing hotter in the FBI's search for Bishop's missing Pontiac.

Lt. Ed Brown, sheriff's substitution in Banning, said this noon that a search for possible contacts made by Bishop during his regular trips to Los Angeles to see a doctor was started today by his office.

Redlands knew Bishop was last seen the evening of May 22, 1954, in that city. They found later that his car passed into Arizona about seven hours later. His discovery and subsequent identification near the Village, his contact with Dr. Rudy Salaman in Los Angeles, and his association, professionally, with a Yucaipa nursing-home owner, Mrs. Della Hurley, gave the case wide scope.

Mrs. Hurley had paid Bishop $10 for accounting services. Payment was made on a check bearing the name of her nursing-home, since found to be out of business in Yucaipa. The check was instrumental in leads to the identification of the skeleton.

PILOT KNOB, IMPERIAL COUNTY, CALIFORNIA

Think, it's only three hours from Palm Springs to a great river, on good roads, too, and through scenic Imperial Valley. The Colorado River played a great part in early California and Arizona history. The last river boat, the "Searchlight," to ply the river from Yuma to the gulf ceased operation in 1906.

The fastest trip from Yuma to Needles, and return, 250 miles, was made in ten hours by the "Gila," a steamboat piloted by Captain Isaac Polos in 1893.

Arizona is planning a port in the Gulf, and wants to buy land from Mexico.

S-D DAY ECHOES CITY'S WORST TRAFFIC WEEK

Tomorrow is S-D Day. It will be the end of S-D Week, which was observed in spirit but not in practice in the City of Palm Springs.

One of the worst accident records ever compiled in the Village in one week's time came during the seven days of Safe Driving Week.

THERE HAVE BEEN 14 accidents in seven days, an average of two a day. One person was fatally injured, and seven suffered injuries which required emergency treatment.

And this does not count a three-fatality crash which occurred just one day prior to the start of S-D Week.

CIVIC GROUPS and school authorities are joining together in a last-minute campaign to keep Palm Springs free from accidents on Thursday, Safe Driving Day, according to George Bond, general chairman of Safe Driving Day Week in the Village.

Driver testing equipment will be placed in operation at two points in the city, at The Center and the Farmer's Market, and all residents and visitors are urged to test their driving skills. No records will be kept of the results.

HIGH SCHOOL students will conduct the tests from 1 to 6 p.m., under the direction of Al Karmier, who is in charge of high school driver education and Ray Beazley, assistant instructor. The students also will show two movies on Driver Education from 5 to 9 p.m. at the same places, under the direction of Ralph Wait, audio-visual director at the high school.

A training film taken in Palm Springs and which is now being used throughout the country will also be shown. It is "Parking as now taught in the classroom," which features techniques developed by Bond.

ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS will furnish 60 Junior Safety Patrol members in full uniforms at all intersections on Palm Canyon Drive from 9 to 10 a.m. Each will display a sign urging observance of S-D Day. The signs were designed and made by Warren Danielson, vice principal at Katherine Finchy school, assisted by Mrs. Jean Benedict, teacher at Cahulla school.

Thursday also will be the last day for students to return Safe Driving pledges signed by their parents, a program in charge of Chester Sproule, principal of Katherine Finchy. The classroom which returns the greatest number of pledges will be awarded a Christmas party.

Two civic organizations will have display projects in the downtown area to remind everyone to drive safely, and a third, the Toastmistress Club, is arranging for a city-wide blast of sirens and bells at 9:15 a.m.

Sharp Blast Rocks Village Late Tuesday

A sharp blast or explosion rocked the Village last night, causing a flood of telephone calls into the local police department. The blast was felt by local citizens about 9:06 p.m., and was believed to have been centered in the Las Palmas area, near the mountains.

Immediate investigation by the police and fire departments failed to locate the cause of the explosion. It was felt by people as far out as the Veterans and Desert tracts.

N. Y. Attorney General to be Forum Speaker

Attorney General Jacob K. Javits of the State of New York, who last year blasted "discriminatory practices" at a hotel where the national association of attorney generals was to meet, will speak to the Palm Springs community at 8:15 p.m., Sunday, at the Jewish Community Center.

His topic at the Community Forum lecture will be "What's the Score on Civil Rights?"

Javits was the only Republican to be elected to serve in a Democratic Administration in New York State. He had formerly served in Congress where he was a prominent member of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives.

His public interests include foreign affairs, housing, veterans, education, civil rights, labor, small business and immigration, and he was sponsor of many bills concerning these while in Congress.

This is his first term as attorney general, after serving eight years in Congress. His margin of victory was by 172,899 votes.

Woman Braves Threat of Gun, Telephones Police

A 32-year-old Palm Springs woman, last night repelled the threat of a middle-aged man, when he drove up beside her as she walked toward her home on Tamarisk, and said "I have a gun—if you get into the car I won't hurt you."

The 32-year-old woman turned and ran to her home, from there she notified police.

Police are looking for a man, 38 to 40 years of age, driving an old model, blue-gray car.

The conspiracy trial of George Strebe, now in the Superior Court in San Bernardino, was continued yesterday to December 19, by Superior Judge Jesse W. Curtis Jr.

The continuance was asked by Attorney Merrill Brown, who recently became associated with Los Angeles attorney A. N. Chelidon in the defense of Strebe, and asked for the delay because he has a Los Angeles case which may not be finished until December 12.

Judge Curtis overruled heated arguments by Deputy District Attorney James Smith in setting the new date.

Fifty representatives of Standard Brands, Inc., will hold a cocktail party and luncheon meeting at El Mirador Hotel, Thursday.

24 Dwellings Begun Here in November

Total for First 11 Months Here Now $9,032,537

Building permits authorized during November pushed the total valuation for 1955 past the $9 million mark, Building Inspector Jack Sanders reported today.

Construction during the first 11 months of this year totals $9,032,537, more than two million dollars over the previous record established in 1946, and almost two times the 1954 figure of $4,883,212.

VALUE OF PERMITS in November was $812,520, compared to the total of $739,495 issued during the same month last year.

New dwellings again accounted for the largest share of construction, 24 authorized, valued at $474,000.

Twenty swimming pool permits were approved, for $80,000. This was the largest number approved since January of 1951.

OTHER CONSTRUCTION permits authorized were:

Twenty-four dwelling additions and alterations, $38,440; three new commercial, $25,000; four commercial additions and alterations, $33,530; nine trailer cabanas and ramadas, $33,050; six apartments, 19 units, $113,000; one apartment addition, $4,000; one hotel addition, $1,000; one municipal building addition, $6,500; one church addition, $14,000.

A total of 94 permits were authorized, Sanders said.

Tongay Attorney to File Freedom Writ

LOS ANGELES — An attorney for escaped Florida prisoner Russell Tongay says he may file a writ seeking to obtain freedom in California for the 28-year-old ex-swimming coach.

Attorney Saul Ross said the writ would be filed next week in Superior Court if it is drawn up, but he would not define his plan.

Tongay was convicted of manslaughter in Florida for the high-five death of his five-year-old "Aquatot" daughter, Kathy. He eluded a prison guard in New Orleans, where he was sent for a medical examination. The fugitive surrendered to local authorities two weeks ago.

Harrison Barnes Memorial Gift is Given to Hospital

Desert Hospital has received a contribution of $2,500 from the Harrison Barnes Foundation in the memory of Harrison Barnes who died November 20, 1954, at the hospital.

Notifying the hospital was Donald Barnes of St. Louis, Missouri, father of the deceased, who asked that the contribution be used for the equipment most needed by the hospital.

LADDER, HOSE STOLEN

Martin Brand, 1523 San Lorenzo, reported theft of a ladder and a garden hose, valued at $43 from his home since November 21. The door was not locked where the equipment was kept, he said.

Doctors, Dozen Nurses Fight for Life of Quad

ALMA, Ga. — One of the quadruplets born to a surprised farm couple fought for its life today, aided by a dozen off-duty nurses who refused nightlong to quit their posts.

Dr. W. W. Sharpe, who delivered the quads yesterday afternoon, said Nos. 1 and 2, both girls, were doing nicely and No. 2, a boy, was in "fair condition." But No. 4, another girl, caused concern.

"She is not doing well at all," he said, "but we're doing everything we can to save her. I have never seen such wonderful cooperation — way beyond the call of duty."

Sharpe explained that 12 or 15 day-shift nurses worked around the clock to help the hard pressed

GOP Housing Program Hit by Stevenson

Raps Republicans in "Non-Political" Speech in Florida

MIAMI, Fla. — Adlai Stevenson accused the Eisenhower administration today of conducting the public housing program with "slogans" and a "lukewarm attitude" while spreading city slums were exacting a mounting toll in human misery.

The candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination delivered a "non-political" address to 1300 city officials and said there is an urgent need for a "combination of government activity and private enterprise which alone can solve" slum clearance problems.

"Even the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, when he sponsored the housing act of 1949, called for the construction of 810,000 public housing units within the next six years," Stevenson said. "Those six years have gone by now, with only 190,000 units built, and another authorized. The current program is only 45,000 units for this fiscal year, and even this congressional decision is 10,000 units higher than the administration's recommendation."

"I suspect that we face today no more basic need, surely none requiring bolder thinking and more aggressive action, than to make the American city a decent place in which to live and raise a family," Stevenson said.

England Ready to Discuss End of H-Bomb Tests

LONDON — Prime Minister Anthony Eden said today Britain is "ready to discuss" cessation of hydrogen bomb explosions with the United States and Russia.

But certain conditions would have to be met, Eden said. He indicated one of these might be consideration for the fact that Britain has not yet tested her H-bomb. The United States and Russia already have made H-bomb explosion tests.

At any rate, Eden said, the Soviet government has not yet communicated with Britain about any such agreement to ban test blasts as a Moscow radio commentator spoke of yesterday.

Caltech Sues Count to Gain Inheritance

LOS ANGELES — Charges that Count Jehan Gaston Bourdior de Queyral married his wife only to obtain her $340,000 estate were filed Tuesday in Superior Court by the California Institute of Technology.

Cal Tech charged the count used "fraud, menace and duress" to obtain the will from his wife, Marguerite, 62, who drowned in a bathtub in Cuernavaca, Mex., July 24.

The institute attempted to prevent recognition of the will. The protested will was drafted four days before her death. An earlier will named the school as chief beneficiary.

Khrushchev Says Russian Nuclear Explosion Felt Nearly 100 Square Miles

CALCUTTA, India (UP) — Soviet Communist party chief Nikita Khrushchev told an Indian official that a nuclear explosion in Russia affected nearly 100 square miles of territory, it was reported today.

On a river cruise with West Bengal's chief minister, Dr. B. C. Roy, Khrushchev referred to the dense population of Calcutta where he and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin were hemmed in by five million cheering Indians on their arrival yesterday.

Sources said the Communist chief advised Roy to "spread Calcutta out lest some madman decide to throw an atom or hydrogen bomb."

There was no further report on the conversation, or whether Khrushchev referred to the recent hydrogen bomb test made by the Soviet Union and announced last week.

SEASON'S WORST COLD SWEEPS U.S., 39 DEAD

By UNITED PRESS
Heavy snows joined forces today with the worst cold wave of the season.

Northern Michigan and Western New York were covered by up to six feet of snow, sub-freezing temperatures drove as far south as Florida, and vicious weather was blamed for at least 39 deaths across the nation.

Heart attacks or traffic accidents caused by the wintry blazes accounted for 14 deaths, and 19 persons died in fires, most of them caused by overheated stoves. In addition, six junior college students were killed when their car smashed into the side of a speeding train during a dense fog near Hanford, California.

THERE WERE AT LEAST five dead at Buffalo, N. Y., where the biggest one-day November snowstorm in the city's history brought the community's life practically to a halt yesterday.

Schools were closed and practically all factories had to shut down. The snow was officially measured at 19.9 inches, but some suburbs reported four feet and hundreds of motorists were marooned in drift-stalled cars.

Drifts six feet deep were reported in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and Kalamazoo was buried under a 14-inch snowfall. The storm gave 75,000 school children in Southwest Michigan a vacation and was blamed for at least three deaths.

Radioactive snow, believed contaminated by a recent Russian hydrogen bomb explosion, fell on Ottawa, Canada, and up to one inch of new snow was reported as far south as Flat Top in Southern West Virginia.

School Enrollment Up 14 Per Cent Over '54 Figure

Growth of the Palm Springs Unified School District is continuing its upward climb, with the tabulation of a 14 per cent increase in enrollment, according to figures released today by Dr. Wallace R. Muelder, superintendent of schools.

Enrollment reports, as of November 23, for the various schools within the district, as compared with a year ago, are:

	1955	1954
Cahulla	280	268
Cathedral City	276	197
D. H. S.	138	117
K. Finchy	405	388
F. S. Stevens	211	199
1000 Palms	13	22
Jr. High	368	296
High School	540	476
Totals	2231	1963

Fifth and sixth grade students from Thousand Palms school are attending the Cathedral City school this year.

Two more teachers have been added to the teaching staff in the past two weeks, and another is scheduled for employment at the Cathedral City school when the trustees take action on the recommendation of the administration Thursday night.

THE BOARD of education is moving rapidly towards providing buildings from the proceeds of the recent $2,125,000 bond issue, with bids on the Cathedral City school being opened today, and the new Cielo Vista school plans now being revised by State and Federal agencies for approval by the State Division of Schoolhouse planning, it was reported by Dr. Muelder. He added that the new school in Section 19 is scheduled for completion in time for the opening of school sessions next September.

At the Junior and Senior high schools, where growth is also creating crowded conditions, the master plan and survey of utilities are now essentially completed and are scheduled for presentation to the board of trustees at their first meeting in December.

Dr. Muelder said that plans are now being drawn for the buildings to be erected at the Junior and Senior High schools. He said "every effort is being made to get these buildings completed. The staff and architects are working diligently, especially so, in light of the growth over and above that which was anticipated."

Jaycees to Talk Over Projects on Slate for Season

Palm Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce will discuss all projects under consideration at a general membership meeting Thursday night at the American Legion hall.

A board meeting will precede the regular session.

Reports will be given on the Mickey Finn project, Olympic Fund drive, Safe Driving Day activity, Christmas projects, Foreign Exchange Student program.

Doctors Say President to Take it Easy

Recovery Still Continues Well is Today's Report

By FRANK ELEAZER
United Press Staff Correspondent

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — President Eisenhower's doctors said today he is coming along fine but that his activities still must be "restricted."

The President underwent his regular weekly examination at his farm home here.

Afterwards Mr. Eisenhower went outdoors in freezing weather to accept a new gift tractor from a group of farm organizations. In chipper mood as he inspected the $4000 red and yellow tractor, Mr. Eisenhower told the farm delegations that he is "feeling very well indeed."

"I think I'll ask my doctor how soon I can get on that thing," he said, gesturing at the tractor.

MR. EISENHOWER decided not to go to his office today but did some work in his study at the farm house.

The President warmly thanked spokesmen for three farm groups for presenting him with the tractor and deep cultivator. He showed them proudly around his barn and part of his farm, staying outside for more than half an hour in freezing weather.

After the presentation, Mr. Eisenhower suddenly inquired of his guests: "Say, did you ever see a cow caller?"

They admitted they hadn't. So the President led the way to his golfmobile, a tiny car modified to carry him and a few guests around his 500 acres, and instructed the driver, Dick Flohr, "All right, now blow it."

FLOHR PRESSED a button and the horn emitted a long, low, mournful call that sounded roughly like a cow.

"Now watch those cattle," the President commanded, delightedly, pointing across a pasture to where about three dozen Angus and two Holsteins were grazing.

Sure enough, they lifted their heads in unison. Soon they were loping across the field in pursuit of the horn.

It wasn't as if the President really needed a tractor, although he no doubt can find a use for it. Four tractors already are in operation on the approximately 500 acres Mr. Eisenhower owns or controls.

None of them, however, actually belongs to the President. Like most of the equipment in use on his tracts, they are owned by Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Fevins, who supervises the Eisenhower farm, and others who actually till the President's soil.

THE NEWEST ADDITION to the Eisenhower tractor line was the gift of Farm Bureau Cooperative Association members in Indiana, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

Officials of the three groups were on hand for the presentation as were representatives of the manufacturers, photographers, and newsmen.

The equipment was the latest in a continuing flow of gifts received by the President.

PRESS STOPPERS

GETTYSBURG, Pa. UP — President Eisenhower tonight appealed to all Americans to drive safely, especially tomorrow, which has been designated Safe Driving Day. "The need is obvious and urgent," Mr. Eisenhower said in a statement to the American public.

BUENOS AIRES UP — A government decree-law today ordered that the newspaper La Prensa and all its assets be turned over to its rightful owners, the family of Dr. Alberto Gainza Pozo.

BULLETIN — Bob Howard, owner of the Howard Manor, underwent an operation for a kidney ailment this morning at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica. The operation, which lasted from 8 a.m. until noon, was very successful and Howard was in good spirits after its conclusion, according to his wife, Andrea Leeds Howard, who called friends here.

81st Birthday is Quiet One for Churchill

Private Family Lunch is Extent of Celebration

LONDON, (AP) — The grand old man of Great Britain turned 81 quietly today in the aftermath of bright and hectic bygone years.

Gray and nearly bald now, Sir Winston Churchill gathered his wife and children around him for a private family lunch. That was all he had in the way of formal plans.

He felt it fitting to observe his birthday without fuss now that the noise of the combat that called him to greatness is past.

He told family and friends that he felt such a "minor milestone" as his 81st birthday deserved only quiet observance. He felt this especially in view of the honors heaped on him on his 80th birthday and the subsequent homage paid to him on his retirement as Prime Minister in April of this year.

He still smokes 10 to 12 cigars a day and still gives his famous "V" for victory sign at all opportunities while whipping around town in a limousine.

Pomona 'Thief Club' Under Investigation

FONTANA (AP) — Police today investigated a juvenile club called "Thieves" following a 13-year-old boy's confession that he stole a $1.39 pipe in order to qualify for membership in the gang.

The owner of a store here caught the boy shoplifting. The youth was booked on suspicion of robbery and released to his parents pending action by juvenile authorities.

CV Committee Appoints Group to Name Slate

Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee Monday night appointed a representative nominating committee to select candidates for offices for the coming year.

Paul Clark, secretary of Chamber of Commerce in Cathedral City and past president of CVAPC, was named by acting president Ted Smith to chairman the group which will include L. C. Lewis, member of Riverside county planning commission, Clarence Washburn, chairman of CVAPC highway committee, and Herb Ecclestone, from Desert Hot Springs Chamber of Commerce.

They will present their choices at the next meeting which will not be on the usual last Monday night of each month, since the last Monday in December is the day after Christmas. Members will be notified by mail when they should attend, and where.

Youths Face First Degree Murder Case

BAKERSFIELD, (AP) — Four youths accused of first degree murder in the slaying of an elderly Mojave ranch caretaker have been referred to Juvenile Judge Warren Stockton here.

Darrell Standridge, 16, Bakersfield; Daniel Green, 15, Lancaster, and Lloyd Sewell, 17, also of Lancaster, and his brother, Weldon, 15, were ordered to the court yesterday by Municipal Judge Doyle Miller. However, authorities indicated they will request that the boys stand Superior Court trial.

All have admitted participating in the fatal shooting of Benjamin J. Butler last week at a Mojave area ranch. Investigators said Green plotted the slaying and bore a grudge against Butler because he was refused permission to hunt on the property.

Increased Patrol Set to Check Hupnappers

Chief of Police Gus Kettmann has ordered the acceleration of patrols in the areas of the town in which numerous thefts of hub caps have been reported.

The order followed reports of the theft of hub caps from William Fadden, whose automobile was parked in the Bank of America lot, and from Leo Brock, who noticed the loss while parked in the lot at Desert Farmers Market.

MISS MARJORIE ANN Hubing of Cathedral City has been selected as S-D Queen and will be officially crowned at the Center tomorrow at 9 a.m. The Safety Patrol selected her for its annual award given to the person who has contributed the most to safety during the year, in recognition of her having made 288 safety signs for use in the School Bus Safety Slogan campaign.

Various Palm Springs civic leaders have urged complete cooperation on the part of everyone.

MAYOR FLORIAN BOYD, who has proclaimed both S-D Week and S-D Day as an official observance, said that "this campaign offers us the incentive to take stock of our behavior — as individuals, and as a community — in the matter of traffic safety. It is an opportunity to remind ourselves of our moral and civic responsibility for safe driving and safe walking."

Bond asked that at least S-D Day be kept free from accidents. "Use courtesy in your driving, and this will ensure that no accidents occur on S-D Day," the Safe Driving Day director said.

C. Ron Ellis, who has been publicly chairman for the campaign, agreed with Bond that "courtesy is the most important factor in the prevention of accidents. Don't be a monster behind the wheel," he asked.

Abbott Slaying Trial Moving to Climax Today

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The trial of Burton W. Abbott moved today towards one of its crucial points—the story of how the body of 14-year-old Stephanie Bryan was found near a remote Trinity County mountain cabin.

Whiel an eyewitness waited to testify to the discovery, the defense continued its cross-examination of Olaf Anderson, a map expert who supervised the preparation of some maps of the area around the cabin.

THE CABIN is owned by a member of Abbott's family. The defendant claims he went there on April 28, the day that Stephanie disappeared. However, he has said he left his Alameda home for the cabin at 11 a.m. Stephanie disappeared five hours later in Berkeley.

Anderson was to be followed to the stand by Harold Jackson, a Trinity County mountaineer. It was his dogs who found the shallow grave in which Stephanie's body was lying. The date was July 20.

DEFENSE ATTORNEYS Harold Hove and Stanley Whitney made a determined attack yesterday on Anderson's proficiency as a map maker. Their chief target was a huge relief map of the cabin and four assistants.

The relief map showed the hillside rising in a fairly gradual slope up from the road. "The defense has argued that Abbott, who has lost one lung to tuberculosis, could not have carried the Bryan girl's body up the hill and dug her grave."

ment has cooperated to the fullest extent with S-D Week and Day activities, asked that extreme caution be used on S-D Day and commented, "from a compliance standpoint, Safe Driving Week has been very disappointing in Palm Springs — due to 'human failure' and the lack of responsibility by the individual."

"Traffic safety depends on the attitude of the individual driver and walker," the police chief continued. "A car is a potential deadly weapon and unless it is handled with respect by persons of good driving judgment, the accident toll will continue to mount. Except for selling appeal, there is absolutely no justification for the current excess horsepower race."

"Elimination of accident-prone drivers, finer screening of driver applicants and severe penalties for infractions that result in highway murder appear to be the only solution. It is a very depressing situation."

Two Arguments Before CVAPC Favor Billboards

Two arguments in favor of billboards along Highways 111 and 99 were presented during a discussion at the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee meeting at city offices.

In reply to a motion that a committee be assigned to propose ordinances to county planning commission that would allow them to pass on all billboards, Leland Yost said restriction of billboards would hinder the business of farmers.

YOST SAID IF AN ordinance is passed which could restrict advertising, he would not be able to exploit his produce for sale. He said he must advertise that he has eggs, or motorists will drive past. He must advertise or he will not make money from his farm, and other farmers around him must do the same.

Another spokesman, Terry Ray, president of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board, said billboards showing date farms, Salton Sea resorts, hotels and apartments and various resort communities in the desert are in perfectly good taste and should be allowed.

THE ARGUMENT AGAINST the allowance of billboards is that they detract from the natural scenic beauty of the desert. They hide the view of mountains and natural flora, anti-billboard proponents say.

The question was raised as a result of Palm Springs Mayor Florian Boyd's reading of a resolution from Palm Springs city council to Riverside county planning commission which showed the Village's favor of county control over billboards.

Vagrancy Count Brings Sentence

Alvin Corothers started to serve the first of 30 days in Riverside county jail yesterday as a result of his sentence for vagrancy in Judge Eugene Theriault's Justice Court. The full sentence was 90 days, and 60 days were suspended.

Corothers was convicted about a week ago and sentenced to ten days in jail. The sentence was suspended on the condition that he leave town and not return for a period of two years.

He was picked up Sunday in a trailer park where he was reportedly causing a disturbance.

Colorado River Ass'n Meets in Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — More than 100 delegates were welcomed here today by Gov. Charles Russell for the 12th annual meeting of the Colorado River Water Users Association.

Harry Horton of California led a panel discussion on "State vs. Federal Rights to Power and Water Resources" to feature the opening session.

Members of the panel included Sen. Alan Bible (D-Nev.), Ted Riggins of Arizona, Richard Robinson of New Mexico and Fisher Harris of Utah.

The main address, "Strategic and Rare Metals in the Colorado River Basin," was given by Sen. George Malone (R-Nev.). Thursday's session will be devoted to reports by the federal agencies.

N.Y. Police Dep't. Thwarts Cold Spell

NEW YORK (AP) — The Police Department met the cold spell today by transferring 1000 rookie policemen, who have been unable to purchase winter uniform overcoats, to patrol cars.

A like number of old-timers will go on foot patrol until the weather moderates.

Renew Attempt to Avert Strike of Bus Drivers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — New negotiating sessions opened today in a final attempt to avert a threatened walkout by 1100 Metropolitan Coach Lines and Asbury Rapid Transit Co. drivers.

Federal conciliator Harry Malcom called on both sides to resume the negotiations in an effort to reach agreement on a new contract before the present contract expires at midnight tonight. The drivers voted 9-1 in favor of the strike to enforce a contract agreement.

More than 250,000 daily commuters in Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange and Riverside counties would be affected by the walkout.

Don Sheets, general chairman for the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, said the strike vote was forwarded to general headquarters of the union in Cleveland for strike authorization. He said the strike hour decided upon by the union committee would be withheld until approved by the national office.

The proposed walkout threatens to be the second in the Los Angeles area within six months. The Los Angeles Transit Lines was shut down last June and July by a 35-day strike over a contract with the AFL Transportation Union.

Transamerica Corp. Acquires Tucson Bank

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Transamerica Corp. has become a majority owner of the Southern Arizona Bank and Trust Co. of Tucson, F. N. Belgrano, Jr., said today.

Belgrano said Transamerica now holds 98.45 percent of the Southern Arizona Bank's outstanding shares as the result of an offer November 10 to exchange its stock for shares in the bank.

The offer expired at the close of business Tuesday and Belgrano said approximately 144,000 Transamerica shares will be issued in the exchange.

"Toughest" Juvenile and Gang Arrested

SAN FERNANDO, (AP) — A gang of six youths whose 18-year-old leader bragged he would become the city's "biggest gangster" and would "shoot any cop" who tried to capture him was arrested Tuesday night in connection with an attempted liquor store holdup in Pacoima.

Police said Robert Shepard, chief of the gang, was picked up with his five companions on robbery charges. They surrendered without a struggle after a woman clerk of the store reported the attempted holdup and police spotted the gang in their car.

Rattlesnake Thinks It's a Woodpecker

ANGOLA, La. (AP) — A rattlesnake practically knocked itself out in striking the leg of a Louisiana State Penitentiary convict and other inmates easily killed the reptile, the prison newspaper reported.

The convict's leg was a wooden one.

Commie Women No Different than Others

BUKIT MERTAMAM, Malaya (AP) — Two women members of Communist terror bands surrendered to police Tuesday and asked for government amnesty.

They went straight from the police station to a beauty parlor for permanent waves.

LINK MISSING AGAIN

Police are investigating the theft of a 60 foot length of link chain, used as a fence across the front of Palm Springs Landscaping company at 725 South Palm Canyon Drive. Value was listed at $15.

GIRL INMATES KILL HOME AIDE

MAKING BREAK FOR LIBERTY, five teen-age girl inmates of Akron, Ohio, detention home strangled Matron Eula Bonham, 59, above. All five were captured in a few hours.—(Int'l.)

Background Story of Early Delinquency Revealed in Slaying of Ohio Jail Matron

The killing of a matron at an Akron, Ohio, detention school in the escape of five young girls is another shocking manifestation of the extremes of what is called juvenile delinquency. The Akron Beacon Journal assigned reporter Robert Kottbauer to find out what in the background of these girls could have led them to homicide. The following dispatch is an adaptation of the story Kottbauer wrote for his paper.

AKRON, Ohio — What in the brief span of 15 or 16 years could condition a girl to take a human life?

What callousness or driving urge could bring girls barely in their teens to stuff an ammonia soaked rag in the mouth of a bound and helpless woman and leave her to suffocate?

Here are reports from probation office records on the five girls who escaped Sunday night from the detention home here and left the matron they had overpowered, Mrs. Eula Bonham, 59, to die.

ZELDA DE COST, 16. One of nine children, she was married two years ago to a boy wanted for rape. Their honeymoon lasted 26 days until he was arrested by West Virginia police, convicted and sent to a prison farm. He escaped and Zelda went to Cleveland where police think was a search for him. This month she came to Akron for a "visit" with a boy named "Smitt Collins." Authorities picked her up Friday in a cabin, believing she was an escapee from some institution.

SHIRLEY SHINGER, 15. Already on probation as a juvenile delinquent, Shirley ran away from home last month. She came back a week later and told her parents she had been visiting friends in Medina, Ohio. Under questioning by a probation officer, it was discovered Shirley had been staying at the home of a man in Wayne County. The man's wife is in a mental hospital. The husband had been "entertaining" young girls in his cabin. The probation officer said boys also had been going to the cabin every night for drinking and sex parties.

RUTH BEICHLER, 16. Her juvenile delinquency record dates back to the time when she was about 10. She had been held in the Delaware Girls' Industrial School until last Wednesday when she was brought to Akron to testify at a trial against three men charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors. She had run away from the Delaware school several times before.

MIRL CAIN, 15. Last month she and another girl came to police with a story that an older man had raped them. Subsequent investigation brought to light an entirely different story, according to probation officer Joyce Spencer. She said Miri and the other girl had been drinking with an older man. The man had a knife and, after leaving the bar, Miri seized it and held it against the man's throat, ordering him to give them his wallet. The man escaped. The girls concocted the rape story, fearing they would be arrested for attempted robbery.

MARGARET NICHOLSON, 15. She is what authorities called a "very disturbed girl." She had been in the detention home three times before for running away from home. She met her boy friend right after escaping and, along with Miri Cain, was persuaded to give herself up after hearing of the matron's death.

SAID PROBATION officer Miss Spencer: "All these girls were badly damaged girls and had little chance for rehabilitation."

Two Residents Eligible for Pacific Dividends

Two residents of Palm Springs are among state residents who have not yet received the liquidating dividends of the Pacific State Savings and Loan Company, according to Robert C. Kirkwood, state controller.

Villagers eligible are: Rae Markheim, 197 Via Lola, and Helen Baylis Coffman, trustee for Owen H. Coffman.

The company was liquidated in 1946, and the Savings and Loan Commissioners have been seeking investors or their heirs since that time.

Time to Winterize Against that Old Misery — the Cold

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The cold season is with us again. It's time to winterize.

Scientists are working on some vaccines but these won't be around for quite a while. An expert said today that plain old-fashioned horse sense is still about the only weapon man has against his age-old enemy.

The common cold is by all odds the most notorious member of the respiratory infection family. But it has some equally undesirable relatives like grippé, influenza, bronchitis and virus pneumonia. Together, these diseases cause

Americans more mass misery than any other illness. The average person gets six attacks a year. Children are particularly hard hit. And the cost in lost wages and production is more than two billion dollars annually.

IN SPITE of these discouraging facts, Dr. Norman B. McCullough said there are many simple things people can do to avoid colds — and to hold down the damage if they do get them.

His prescription: Get plenty of rest, avoid chills, wear sensible clothing, and don't dope yourself with a lot of unnecessary drugs.

McCullough knows what he's talking about. He is clinical director of the National Microbiological Institute and an authority on upper respiratory infections.

He took issue in an interview with many of the so-called cold remedies now in general use. He said science hasn't come up with a cure yet and there's no use pretending it has.

McCULLOUGH ASSERTED that antihistamine drugs which have been in vogue in recent years don't do any good at all. They help in some kinds of allergy, he said, but have no effect on an honest-to-goodness case of cold or grippé.

The same applies to chest rubs, bicarbonate of soda and similar home cures, McCullough said: They aren't any help and, in some cases, could be harmful.

McCullough likewise warned against the indiscriminate use of antibiotics. He conceded Penicillin, for example, helps in some kinds of pneumonia and sinusitis when they are caused by bacteria.

But he said antibiotics don't do any good in ordinary cases of cold, grippé and similar infections which are mostly caused by viruses.

McCullough said nose drops help clear clogged nasal passage ways. But he warned they shouldn't be used for more than three days. After three days, he said, they inflame the mucous membranes and do more damage than good.

IN SHORT, McCullough said the best way to beat the respiratory infections this winter is to prevent them. And to do this, he recommended a few simple rules:

1. Avoid undue fatigue. Overexertion reduces resistance, allowing latent viruses to flare into activity and cause trouble.
2. Avoid chills. It is particularly important to avoid drafts while sleeping. Chills also reduce resistance.
3. Avoid close contact with others who have colds.
4. Avoid overheating. Wear light weight underclothes, moderate weight suit or dress and overcoats so the amount of clothing can be adjusted to keep the body's temperature more or less even. Don't overheat rooms.

5. Avoid excess dryness in your home. Humidity is allowed to drop far too low in artificially heated houses of today. Humidity should be somewhere between 40 and 60.

MINIMUM WAGE IMPACT — Congress has ruled that the federal minimum wage shall rise from 75 cents to $1 next March. That will boost the wages of more than 2,100,000 American workers. It will also boost their employers' wage bill about half a billion dollars annually. But the change in minimum wage will have much broader and more significant effects than that, because millions of workers now receiving more than the minimum must insist on keeping their pay differentials when the floor is lifted. They, too, will demand — and in many cases, get — wage boosts. That will add billions to the national wage total.

The consuming public will soon feel the effect of the minimum wage boost. Numerous companies now paying less than $1 hourly will probably try to regain the increase by charging more for the goods they produce. It is true also, however, that most of the higher wages will promptly be used to buy goods and services. That will help to keep the economy rolling briskly.

Many employers are strongly opposed to increasing the minimum wage. There is merit in some of the arguments they advanced against it. Yet to balance their opinions, the increase will meet the test of legislation if it brings the greatest good to the most people.

ACCENTING THE POSITIVE—The idea that comic books, novels and other reading matter unsuitable for children must somehow be curbed has gained strength during the past few years. Various methods of control — everything from more stringent laws to action by committees of aroused citizens — have been suggested and tried.

The motive of most of the parents involved seems to be good. They recognize that much of the reading matter to be found in drug stores and on newsstands is not the sort of thing they would like to have their children read. Hence, they fall in readily with ideas to censor and control.

But another method was suggested to many parents recently when a children's book fair opened in a large midwestern city. They saw that children—many of whom, no doubt, were readers of comic books from time to time — were caught up at once in the wonder and beauty, the riches and strength of the books on display. No child clung back, demanding a horror comic or a snappy novel about Paris night life. On the contrary, the children were entranced by the many colorful, entertaining, wholesome book they saw.

The conclusion was simple. Parents can safeguard their children, and at the same time enrich their lives, by making good books available in abundance.

• Express their views

Buffalo, S.D., Times-Herald — "The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away" could be paraphrased to read the government giveth and the government taketh away." The main point of difference, however, is that the Lord giveth out of the bounty of His goodness, while the government can only "giveth" back part of what it "taketh away."

Ketchikan, Alaska, Daily News — "The paternalistic attitude exercised by the Civil Aeronautical Board (CAB) over commercial airlines is more often a handicap than a benefit... The CAB arbitrarily decides what routes airlines must run and what companies may operate. To our way of thinking... airlines should have the same right as other concerns to operate where they pleased as long as they maintained safety standards set by the CAB."

Salem, Ohio, Farm and Dairy — "Farming is no longer a matter of getting up with the chickens and going to bed with the sun. It is paper-work, pencil-work, using long words like blend price and aureomycin correctly and effectively. You have to be a combination of Einstein, Shakespeare and Diamond Jim Brady to be a success as a farmer and more, and it doesn't hurt if you throw in a little P. T. Barnum, either. That's an exaggeration. But it is far harder to be a good farmer nowadays than it used to be."

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat)

ADLAI'S JOB AHEAD—Adlai Stevenson, first Democrat to announce formally that he is a candidate for his party's Presidential nomination, says he will enter the Minnesota preferential primary next March, at the invitation of the Democrat-Farmer-Labor party. Doubtless he will permit his name to be used in other preferential primaries. By so doing he will get a considerable "jump" on other potential candidates, because he will be doing business with the party leaders in several states, directly.

In Minnesota, for instance, his candidacy will be under the auspices of Senator Humphrey who is a political power. This could set the pattern for several other states where "favorite sons" are now blooming but who will wither after the first few convention roll calls.

Gov. Stevenson has his work cut out for him. He was defeated in 1952 by Dwight D. Eisenhower although he polled a record vote of more than 27,000,000. Inasmuch as there are more registered Democrats than Republicans, he obviously must woo back members of his party who went to Ike. To do that he must come close to Ike's middle of the road policy, even though Mr. Eisenhower doesn't run again. He certainly must declare himself definitely on agriculture and foreign policy. Up to date he has been vacillating. And the politically curious are speculating on how he will handle Harry Truman, who was a considerable incubus in 1952.

His announced candidacy starts the pot boiling after many months of simmering. We may expect from Mr. Stevenson a vigorous campaign, embroidered with the rhetoric for which he is famous. But he will have to prove to the voters that he is more than an artful pharisee, if he is to be a winner in Chicago.

By DON
Cats are fun.
And frisky too.
But another one
Would be 2 plus 2.

This was the complaint the other night of a husband whose wife wanted to take home a kitten that she spied outside Vic Sudaha's Palm House while waiting for their car to be brought to them. Expressing the fear, "It'll be run over," she cuddled the furry little animal against her mink stole, and tried to convince her husband that four cats wouldn't be too many in their home.

No success, so she took it to the side of the building. The kitten, smart in the ways of the world though, beat her back to the cars. Her husband, seeing possible defeat, then carried it to the rear of the building, and came back. Just as their car arrived they saw it scurrying around the corner. But it was too late, other people were waiting, and they had to leave to avoid confusion.

Wonderful people, taking time out to care for a homeless kitten. Sincere, too.

NOT LIKE SOME I saw though while making the rounds of the night clubs with some Thanksgiving weekend guests.

Add to pet peeves, maybe even make it No. 1.

These are the persons who come to watch a show, then spend their time talking and not permitting other people to enjoy it. I've often wondered how the entertainers feel about a lot of noisy chatter in the background, while they are working hard to make the show a success—which is what their stock in trade is basically. I think many times, if I was on the stage, it would be a temptation to just stop, and let the inconsiderate noise-makers have the spotlight.

Impossible maybe, but it would be interesting to see.

TODAY'S DECEMBER 2, the day after S-D Day and Week. Anyone ashamed of the record which residents of Palm Springs compiled in this nationwide observance?

If so, and everyone should be, make a resolution now (don't wait until January 1) to be a safe driver throughout the year and all years.

To repeat an often-used statement, if as many Americans were killed by an enemy as are killed in traffic, we would be fighting mad. Complacency is the weapon of too many Americans in the battle against traffic death and destruction.

Let's start our own private army in Palm Springs to combat the toll of life and property. Let's everyone get into the act. All generals, in charge of themselves. Devise your strategy of warfare, using as your battler "Safety."

ENOUGH OF THE soapbox for this time.

Let's "Rattle and Roll" for awhile.

Wonder what three friends of Eddie Cantor were doing the other night sleeping outside his house? Maybe they didn't want to awaken him until the morning. After a little excitement about their presence they were admitted to the house and secured comfortable beds.

LIBRARY NOTES

Do you remember Katczinsky in ALL QUIET ON THE WESTERN FRONT with affection? Then you will love Corporal Binns of THE BIG PICK UP, Elleston Trevor's new novel of the Second World War which is now available at the Welwood Murray Memorial Library.

THE BIG PICK UP is the story of Operation Overlord, that treacherous move from the beach at Dunkirk through the thousands of stubbornly dauntless men who had been trapped in France at the opening of the war. But this gigantic military operation, on the success of which depended Britain's ability to continue the war, is seen through the eyes of a tightly knit group of men under the command of Corporal Binns.

Not understanding the overall problem, reacting only to the immediate necessities of fighting and fleeing, they beat their way through fifty miles of hell to the beach, subjected to repeated bombings, scrounging their food where they can get it, pushing the weary miles through masses of refugees whose shock and bewilderment make them hostile to soldiers of any uniform. And it is Binns whose stolid determination eggs them on, who nudges the fear-ridden and alerts the preoccupied.

While the book is packed with the chaotic events of this journey to the sea and safety, there grows stronger and more uplifting the deep and compassionate comradeship of the men, unacknowledged but as tangible as the bullets that spatter around them. This is a record of the embattled emotions of the common soldier locked in mortal combat with the enemy, and only occasionally is the focused, overall motion of the war felt.

IF THE BIG PICK UP is the story of the inarticulate, whose thoughts only rarely, and then quite by chance, touch upon the theoretical and philosophical background of war, James Hodson's book RETURN TO THE WOOD is a compassionate exploration of the ideological concepts involved in war. In his book the heat of battle is the remembered nostalgia of the complete selection of everything in Palm Springs... Hope you have the same idea of SHOPPING in the Village.

an old soldier, the ancient combatant retourné who makes a pilgrimage to the French battlefields on which he fought.

Hodson makes clear the pressures that 1939 brought to bear on a man who was passionately committed to pacifism. He makes clear the conflicts arising between Hargreaves and his wife, Kate, a woman who dedicated her life to the fight for peace. And the entire pattern of their emotions is re-created and heightened by Rob Hargreaves' son. Rob represents still a later generation which has to face the same unresolved tensions in this dilemma of the modern man.

Hargreaves' pilgrimage to France, the memories it arouses of his companions, particularly of Hamp and his heart-breaking court martial, also stirs up every conceivable thought on war: its futility, its grim monotony, its necessity, its ability to release the very best, and the very worst, behavior in men.

The result is a thought provoking novel of a man faced problem. It is a book that will be especially appealing to those who grew up after the First World War, who were barraged with anti-war propaganda, I-won't-fight pledges, and the special loathing aroused by such plays as WHAT PRICE GLORY?, and who then, having taken a firm stand against war, were faced with another great conflict in which men could believe, as they always have before, they were fighting for certain ideals which they hold dear.

For, Hodson points out, while most people will agree that war is not an acceptable solution to international disagreements, there are few who, when war comes, can honestly refuse to fight on the strength of this conviction alone.

It Happened Last Night

NEW YORK—Lady, how'd you like to be married to an obstetrician?

Pretty blond actress Betsy Palmer was sound asleep in her apartment at 3 a.m. the other day — when the doorbell rang.

"I'd been expecting a script to be delivered rather late but I thought when I woke up, 'Oh, NO, no idiot could be bringing it this late!'"

Instead, it was a policeman. A woman was having a baby right out in the street. Would Betsy's husband, Dr. Joseph Merendino, come out on the sidewalk and preside?

"I didn't go out," Betsy said later, telling me about it. "I was the good wife who made hot chocolate for my husband. He was back in the house in about 15 minutes."

It was Mrs. Sarah Healy who had the baby out on the sidewalk and Betsy, who's in the new Joan Crawford picture, "Queen Bee," was glad that her husband didn't have to go farther than that for this delivery.

"Usually when he's called at 3 a.m., it's to a hospital, and I just sort of roll over and say 'Bye now,'" she says.

"I admit sometimes when he's already been up for hours he bangs the phone on the floor. I try then to have a sense of humor for him."

But at that hour, witticisms aren't likely to be appreciated. "Sometimes I sit in the waiting room at the hospital till he comes down smelling of ether. I've never taken ether and to me it's a good smell, and I snuggle up to him and get a free whiff."

Betsy's "such an old ham," she says, "that sometimes I get into a scrub uniform with the mask, and help out afterward. But I have yet to see a delivery. My husband has enough baby delivering with me every time I do a show."

And Betsy, who's from Hammond and East Chicago, Ind., and Hollywood, has done a couple hundred on TV, and has recently appeared on the "I've Got a Secret" panel. Betsy was second lead also in "The Long Gray Line" movie.

"Women ask me whether I'm afraid of losing my husband to a patient. They say all women fall in love with their obstetricians because their husbands don't understand them at that time. I wouldn't want him to be such an ogre they wouldn't find him attractive but I hope he remembers he's got a wifeboo at home."

Betsy and the doctor were married on a Saturday afternoon a year and a half ago and had dinner with her husband's parents.

"Here it was, our wedding night, when we came into the house about midnight, the phone rang."

"Guess what it was. A baby had to be delivered. I said, 'All right, dear, I'll be awake when you come in.' But it was 4 a.m. and I wasn't. I was broken in very early as an obstetrician's wife."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Margaret Sullivan, star of the hilarious new farce "Janus" has a clause in her contract giving her Christmas eve off — so she can be with her children. She has 3 of her own, and her husband has 4. Mrs. Carolyn Green, author of the new hit, and wife of Scranton salt tycoon Edson Green, is the mother of 3 teen-agers, the youngest, 13. Her son Nicky, 13, described the play as "Neat!"

TV Producer Harry Herman's Thanksgiving story was the saddest of all. His Shepherd dog devoured the whole turkey off the back porch the night before Thanksgiving. Lois DeFee of the Club Samois writing a book "Don't Give Up The Strip" to prove that unclad femininity is part of the culture of all ages. . . Lilo, French star of "Can Can," now making a French film, "Za Za," returns here December 27 and looks like the new hot act in cafes.

Singer Toni Arden's recovering from bruises — she had to jump 15 feet from a plane when it caught fire on the runway in Toronto. . . Designer Don Loper will have his bio between covers. . . Cafes are worrying about a rumor there'll be no all-night liquor licenses New Year's Eve, "cause it extends into Sunday a.m."

Earl's Pearls . . .

Definition of a taxpayer: One who doesn't have to pass a civil service exam to work for the government. —Chanute (Ill.) Tribune.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Love's a lot like eating mushrooms. By the time you find out whether it's good for you, it's too late."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH, Shannon Bolin described the career of a wanted criminal: "He spent half his life behind bars and the other half leaning on them."

Al Fields claims he heard a puzzled traffic cop tell a woman driver, "This is the first time I ever gave a ticket for driving on the wrong side of the sidewalk." That's earl, brother.

Washington Report

WASHINGTON—The multi-billion dollar military and economic foreign aid program is undergoing an "agonizing reappraisal."

Powerful demands are being made for a big increase in next year's budget.

Leading this significant backstage drive are the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who want an additional $1,200,000,000 for "military hardware" to be given U. S. allies — guns, planes, tanks, munitions, etc.

And Nelson Rockefeller, special assistant to the President, is asking $250,000,000 more for economic and technical aid.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff's proposal, in the form of a unanimous recommendation to Defense Secretary Wilson, amounts to a 60 percent boost in the current budget for "hardware" foreign aid — $705,000,000. Purpose of this large increase is to maintain through next fiscal year, starting July 1, 1956, the present level of expenditures for this crucial defense requirement.

This level is $2,000,000,000 a year, consisting of new funds voted by Congress plus money left over from previous appropriations. The Joint Chiefs of Staff are telling Secretary Wilson that it is "absolutely essential" to continue these extensive armament outlays, and it can only be done by an additional $1,200,000,000.

Rockefeller is equally insistent that economic and technical aid must be expanded, particularly in South America, the Middle East, and Southeast Asia. This year's budget is $162,000,000 for economic assistance, and $153,000,000 for technical aid.

NOTE: The economic aid program is proving a big boon to Nationalist Chinese evacuated from the Red-Peril Tachen Islands to Formosa last Spring. So far the U. S. has spent $130,000 in financial assistance to 914 tradesmen and craftsmen. They have received an average of $130 in cash, tools and merchandise to re-establish themselves. The resettlement of 19,000 other refugees is still in progress.

POWERFUL OPPOSITION—How far the proposed increases will get in President Eisenhower's inner councils is conjectural.

Forceful opposition is being voiced by three highly influential officials—Treasury Secretary George Humphrey, the most potent member of the cabinet; Budget Director Rowland Hughes, militant economy advocate; and John Hollister, head of the foreign aid agency, who disapproved of large spending for this purpose before he was put in charge of it.

In cabinet and National Security Council discussions, these three authorities have sharply challenged the need of the heavy increases demanded by the Joint Chiefs and White House secretary Rockefeller.

Unless these backstage differences are ironed out, the final decision will have to be made by President Eisenhower.

His budget for the next fiscal year, starting July 1, 1956, will be completed in December. It will be submitted to Congress in January, following his annual State of the Union message. It is possible the President may delay the foreign aid portion of his budget until later, pending developments in certain explosive situations abroad. That was the procedure followed on the current budget.

Meanwhile pressures are intensifying for more foreign spending. Both the State Department and Pentagon have steadily-mounting lists of "requests" for additional U. S. aid. Foremost among these insistent pleas are:

For outright grants of money — South Korea, $100,000,000; Nationalist China, $80,000,000; Spain, $30,000,000; Japan, $30,000,000; Pakistan, $10,000,000; Iran, $10,000,000; $20,000,000.

For loans — Turkey $30,000,000; India, $100,000,000; South Vietnam, $2,000,000.

The 60 per cent increase in weapons aid proposed by the Joint Chiefs of Staff would go chiefly to the following countries:

West Germany, for the new army, navy and air force being organized there as part of NATO defenses against Communist aggression; Japan, where a similar rearmament program is underway; Formosa; Pakistan; Turkey; Iraq; Iran and other Middle Eastern nations that join the Western alliance.

NOTE: Syria is raising its Moscow legation to embassy level, as a result of Russia's arms and economic aid. Both countries will be represented by ambassadors instead of ministers.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

DURING MALENKOV'S abortive campaign to provide more consumer goods for the Russian people, a farmer—fed up with empty promises—had the nerve to demand in an open meeting, "Where is the white flour and the new shoes they have been promising us?"

"What's your name?" countered the commissar, "Petrovsky."

"Okay, Comrade, I will answer your question at our next open meeting."

The next meeting had scarcely gotten underway when the farmer's voice was heard. "I know," said the commissar. "You want to know what's happened to the white flour and the new shoes."

"No, Comrade," was the reply. "I want to know what's happened to Comrade Petrovsky?"

Seal Response Stimulating, Mrs. Hansen Reports

Many Palm Springs residents have mailed their Seal Sale contributions in early, according to Mrs. H. Lauritz Hansen, Palm Springs chairman, who expressed satisfaction at the prompt response to the traditional Christmas-tide Appeal.

"The early vote of confidence is the program of services supported by the sale of Seals is heartening assurance that the campaign will meet with good success in this area and that the community is alerted to the continuing need to fight tuberculosis," she said.

Word from the Riverside headquarters of the association where 4,244 contributions have been tallied by the end of the first week of the campaign indicated that the usual generous response to the Seal Sale could be anticipated.

Contributions totaled $8,228.56, which is slightly more than one-fifth of this year's campaign goal, to meet the increasing need of the anti-tuberculosis program.

Education Board Meets Thursday

A regular meeting of the board of education of the Palm Springs Unified School district will be held at 7:30 p.m., tomorrow, at Frances Stephens school, it was announced today by Wallace R. Muelder, superintendent.

The meeting which was moved from November 24 forward to the new date will be a policy and procedure meeting.

Holidays on Desert Attract Many

Thanksgiving week at the Palm Springs Biltmore had many guests from coast to coast who came to spend the holiday on the desert.

Guests included the Richard Rowlands and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Singer of New York City, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Joseph and daughter Dona of Flossmoor, Illinois, Mrs. A. E. Conneau of Oakland, Chic Hecht of Las Vegas, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stuchen and son Robert of Beverly Hills. (Mr. Stuchen is president of the Hillcrest Country Club).

Also Mr. and Mrs. James S. Burkett and Mr. and Mrs. Walter May of Beverly Hills; Mr. and Mrs. F. Walton of San Gabriel; Mr. and Mrs. Gainsboro, Mrs. R. Rogers and daughter Maureen of Long Beach; and Mrs. George Martin of San Diego, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Buehler and sons Joe and Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton Lyle Fisher and daughters Penny, and Molly and sons Tony and Freddie of Ogden, Utah, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Hetzel and Candy from Long Beach for Thanksgiving in the Garden Room.

So many of the guests, and those who were not guests of the hotel used this beautiful room for their holiday celebration from 2 p.m. until that it would be impossible to cover all the parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howard of Los Angeles, gave their son David a real Turkey birthday party and his brother Barry helped with the carving. Other guests who enjoyed the fun were Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Gilmore, Los Angeles and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lehrfeld, Palm Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kreeger of Westwood, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Bodian, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Goldstein of Los Angeles, gave a bon voyage party for Mr. and Mrs. Oscar C. Stahl of Los Angeles, who are leaving for Europe.

"Corky" Hale known as the "hottest" gal on the harp in the musical world, 23 and blonde, entertained her mother Mrs. Max Hecht of Freeport, Illinois. "Corky" has appeared in such top shows as "Comedy Hour", "Liberace", "Red Skelton" and many others.

Outside guests who enjoyed the cuisine and the music of Harry Gillingham at the piano bar included Mrs. Adolph Menjou, who was hostess to Mrs. Richard Hoe, Miss Betty Hoe, and her son Peter Menjou of Beverly Hills.

Eastern Star to Meet Thursday

Palm Springs Chapter 576, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold a stated meeting Thursday night, December 1, at the Masonic Temple, East Ramon Road, at 8 p.m. with Worthy Matron Isabel Magennis and Worthy Patron Louis Dubin presiding.

Decorations will be in charge of Mary Clarke, and refreshments chairman Julius Easley will be assisted by Naomi Martin, Ethel Coolidge, Mary Parkman and Leta Dunlap.

All members of the organization are cordially invited to attend.

Villager's Brother Dies in Chicago

On Thanksgiving Day Senator George Maypole received news from Chicago of the death of his brother, William J. Maypole. The Senator, who has been ill himself for the past few weeks is greatly improved. His daughter, Virginia Madden and daughter Nancy, of Burlingame, who had been visiting here since he became ill were joined by her husband, W. W. Madden and son, Tom, before Thanksgiving. The Madden family departed on Friday to visit with Ex-Congressman Sam Yorty and family in Los Angeles before returning north.

Sintons Host Dinner Party on His Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sinton, who have taken an apartment at the Sunset Towers for the season, hosted a Saturday night dinner at the Racquet Club, which celebrated the host's birthday.

Autumn flowers decorated the dinner table in the Garden Room and a birthday cake topped off the dinner.

Wishing their host "Happy Birthday" were the Messers and Mesdames Edgar Richards, Lou Golan, George Friedeman and Bernard Weinberg.

That same evening the Frank Berings were dinner hosts to a large group which included Mr. and Mrs. Harry Joe Brown, Mrs. Ed Leshin (she leaves soon for Honolulu) and Jimmy Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom May had as their dinner guests the Sam Briskins and William Doziers.

Contest Shows That Women Drivers are No Menace

Two more blows in defense of the "woman driver" have been struck in the past two weeks. And, just to add some authority to the punches, both received national attention while hitting at the misconception that women are not safe drivers.

Sadly enough - for men - the record shows that for the second week running a housewife has proven herself superior to men in correctly answering traffic safety questions prepared by the National Safety Council for the month-long "Dodge for Life" contest.

Both winners thus far, Mrs. John Anderson, 31, of Ft. Worth, and Mrs. Lloyd Conkling, 43, of Mt. Vernon, Ohio, not only have won the contest prize of a new Dodge every year for life but humbled men contestants in doing it. Mrs. Conkling outscored her nearest male competition by 20 points and Mrs. Anderson by 10 in the contest, held on the Lawrence Welk coast-to-coast television show in support of President Eisenhower's Safe Driving Day campaign.

With only two more contests to be held, the best men drivers can hope for is a tie. Should women drivers walk off with the top honors, however, neither Detroit nor Europe will be able to build a car small enough to hold America's deflated, slightly humiliated men drivers.

As Mrs. Conkling said, after becoming the second female contest winner: "We now have proof of what most women already knew - a woman driver is a safe driver."

Doughnuts Re-Done

NEW YORK (AP)—To freshen plain doughnuts, place them in a covered casserole and heat in a hot oven (400 degrees) for five minutes. For added flavor, roll them immediately in a mixture of sugar and cinnamon.

Cranberries Plentiful

WASHINGTON (AP)—Good news for the holiday shopper: the Department of Agriculture said this year's crop of cranberries is well over 1,000,000 barrels, the second largest production on record.

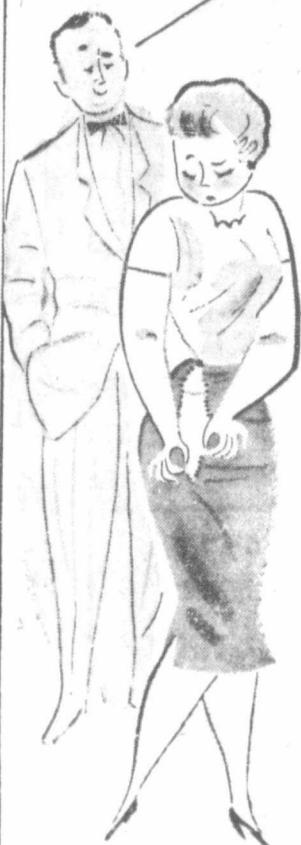

HOT PIE, COLD TOPPING

NEW YORK (AP)—Lemon sherbet makes a tasty topping for hot mince pie. To make the sherbet, whip 1 can (14 ounces) of chilled, evaporated milk until it's stiff, and add slowly 1 can (6 ounces) of frozen concentrate of lemonade. Put in an ice cube tray, and set the refrigerator at the coldest setting. Stir the sherbet twice while it is freezing.

Christmas bells and wreaths are glittering again . . . along Palm Canyon Drive . . . They twinkle in the desert sunlight in the daytime . . . and sparkle at night as they reflect the lights from the palm trees . . . and the stars overhead fit in so well they seem like additional decoration . . . as Palm Springs advances towards Christmas . . . Already there is a gaiety as the first Christmas shoppers get really serious about buying . . . and the windows in our smart Palm Canyon shops . . . are bright with Christmas dream gifts . . .

Christmas shopping in Palm Springs is fun . . . because of the amazing array of unusual and different gifts . . .

The one I found most entertaining is the two dollar doll that has additional wardrobe items . . . including a $45 mink coat . . . Among the many jeweled articles . . . and you find jewelry on almost everything . . . is the big plastic pig . . . It's a bank . . . but who would dream of putting pennies into it? . . . Christmas cards range from the bizarre and risqué . . . to the little furred kitten that can be wound up and released to tumble . . . Completing the blue and white decor at El Rods . . . are two beautiful white fantail pigeons . . . in a $300 wrought iron cage . . . that's seven feet high and stands on a four foot base . . . Tropical flowers around the base . . . add the final touch of sophistication . . . White mink shrugs . . . hand-painted and jeweled skirt . . . cashmere sweaters in original designs . . . baby burros big enough for a child to sit on . . . life-sized baby tigers . . . platform sandals with hand-painted heels . . . and handbags of every description . . . are some of the things that will appear under Palm Springs Christmas trees this year . . . For smart decorations there are highly decorative and jeweled desert primroses by Mary Noel . . . that are to be found in smart shops all over the country this season . . . but are especially good in Palm Springs . . .

Pearl and John McManus attended a performance of the Sadlers Wells Ballet at the Philharmonic with Dr. and Mrs. Lee S. DuBridge (he is Cal-Tech president) . . . and while they were in town . . . they also went to the Pasadena Playhouse to see those world-famous Dublin Players . . . I hear that the Players were eager to do a play in Palm Springs but but there wasn't time to arrange it . . . It would be nice if we could book them for another year . . .

George and Daphne Cameron are going in town the first of the week . . . and will await the arrival of the baby . . . at their home in Beverly Hills . . . The

Mrs. Elaine Elser of 1189 Tamarisk Road, entertained her two nieces, Janet Childs Elser, student at San Jose State College, Margery Elser of U.S.C., and friend James Arthur of U.C.L.A., as her house guests over the weekend. Saturday evening Margery Elser was escorted to the Tennis Club by James Arthur for the dinner dance. Mrs. Elaine Elser hosted her guests to the Kiva Room for the popular brunch Sunday afternoon.

Robbie Weismann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Weismann, accompanied his parents for a visit to Big Bear and remained with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wood. Master Robbie, who has been in ill health found the climate agreeable and will remain there indefinitely.

Noted socialites Mr. and Mrs. Warner Sharf of the clothing store family, Mr. and Mrs. James Roach of Los Angeles, Walter Oppenheimer and his designer wife, Helga, have been funning and sunning at La Quinta hotel.

Popularity of Brunch Increasing

Sunday morning brunch in the Kiva Room at El Mirador, with its wonderful meal served buffet style, its informality and music continues a "must" for Villagers and visitors.

Tex Kidwell strums his guitar and starts singing and has no difficulty in getting people to join in the impromptu floor show.

At Sunday's brunch, Johnny Boyle and Tex gave forth with some duets, and Melba Bennett joined Tex in singing her own version of "Home, Home in Palm Springs," a take off on "Home on the Range." Stealing the show was a cute little waitress named "Scotty" with a brogue to match her name, singing "A Wee Doc and Doras."

Trav and Willie Rogers were there with their new grandchild and Ray Ryan got his first glimpse of his godchild, when he and the godmother Tommy Soderberg, perched the baby on Ray's silver saddle and posed for pictures.

Mary Hurrell was with Isabelle McMahon, who owns a string of some of the top racing horses of the country.

Among others at the brunch were Mrs. William Perlberg, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Salinger, the William Maloufs, Ed McCoubrey, Elsinore Machris, Gar Moore and the E. C. Murrays.

baby is expected in January . . . and it is also expected to be a girl . . .

John and Lisa Gallois sailed Monday and are due home from Europe soon . . . They remained abroad longer than usual . . . to attend the re-opening of the Opera in Vienna . . . This great occasion for the Viennese has been pictorially reported in Life . . . The Bernard Fords, who were with Mr. and Mrs. Gallois for part of the Summer returned earlier . . . and spent Thanksgiving in San Francisco . . . They are due here early in December . . .

Cocktailing in the attractive sunken bar at the Oasis . . . was Meredith Overpeck (her Palm Springs column is "Cactus and Caviar" and appears each Thursday in the Herald Express) . . . With her was Hal Duncan, president of Duncan-Vaile Art Supply Company in Los Angeles . . .

Nicky and Barron Hilton were at the Racquet Club . . . Sunday and Monday . . . Mona Freeman and her little girl were in town this weekend too . . .

Mrs. James Geggie, who was social director of the Desert Inn for so many years . . . was down from Los Angeles . . . to eat Thanksgiving dinner with her son and daughter-in-law, the Jim Geggies . . .

Just back in the Village . . . and dining at the Beachcomber Monday night . . . was Lily Pons escorted by Bill Bogges . . .

Alaskans Visit in the Village

Mr. and Mrs. Bert A. Wennerstrom of Anchorage, Alaska, are spending a month with Mrs. Wennerstrom's sister, Mrs. Ivar Baling. The Baling recently sold their home on Calle Marcus and bought a new one on Deep Well Road, where they entertained at Thanksgiving dinner, with the Wennerstroms and the Herbert Fosters as guests.

Hendrickson's Host Houseguests

Mrs. Elsie Keyes and daughter Carol of Los Angeles spent Wednesday to Sunday as houseguests of the Frank Hendricksons of 1460 Fiesta Road.

Sunday guests at the Hendrickson home were Mr. and Mrs. Merrit Kneifel and daughter Pamela, also of Los Angeles. The Kneifels were on their way home from a camping trip to Bass Lake.

Weekend Guests at Desert Inn

Weekending at the Desert Inn were Mrs. H. Helen McKee and Mrs. J. G. Hey of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Hund of Corona del Mar, Mr. and Mrs. John Conte (TV star) of Beverly Hills, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Wildon of Pacific Palisades, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Corwin (theatre chain owners) and family of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen E. Siegal of Beverly Hills.

Entertains Guests from Cleveland

Mrs. Benjamin V. Becker of 303 Crestview Drive, has as her houseguests Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heiner of Cleveland. Mr. Heiner is an executive of the Garland Paint Company and his wife is Marie Hays Heiner, author of "Hearing is Believing". She is also president of the Hearing and Speech Center of Cleveland, a group that has been most successful in correcting hearing and speech impediments.

The Sandford Adlers and family of Beverly Hills were at the Desert Inn this weekend.

Fabulous Tree and Turkey To Star Yuletide Party

There will be gaiety, Christmas music and wonderful food, in the parish hall of St. Paul's in the Desert on the evening of December 14, when the Guild presents the annual Yuletide party.

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of Alex S. Hammond will give a program of Christmas music. There will be the fabulous Christmas tree laden with gifts which is always a great attraction at these events.

Mrs. Frank W. Camp, chairman

NOREEN NASH, who is in films and television, was photographed with her two sons, Robert (in front) and Lee Siegal on their Palm Springs holiday. Together with Miss Nash's husband, Dr. Lee Siegal of Beverly Hills, they spent the Thanksgiving weekend at the Darryl Zanuck home.

Church Bazaar on December 11

Rev. Father Daniel Donovan has announced that the date of the coming Bazaar at the Lady of Guadalupe church is set for December 11 in honor of the feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe.

The grounds adjoining the church will be a scene of colorful booths, fish pond and games with the food the main attraction. The menu will be topped with Mexican food, and fried chicken will be served from 1 p.m. into the evening hours.

Mrs. Mercie Gabriel is chairman of the Bazaar and she extends an invitation to the general public promising a good time for young and old for a worthy cause, "at the little Church on the reservation."

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert S. Hargis and sons, Bob and John, were guests at the M. E. Hargis home in Palm Springs from Wednesday through Sunday. The Colonel and his family live in Irvington, California.

One of Beverly Hills' prominent attorneys, Irwin M. Fulop and his wife are spending a week at Hotel The Oasis.

Former Villager, D. Arkelian, was in the Village during the past week. Mr. Arkelian, who had a home on Via Sol, is now living in Fresno.

Agnes Andrews spent a good part of the week in Los Angeles visiting with friends. Miss Andrews, who is librarian at the Wood Murray Memorial Library, experienced the thrill of seeing "Oklahoma," which opened recently.

The ticket committee, reports that there is a great demand for tickets, and as there is a limited supply, anyone wishing to attend should immediately phone Mrs. Camp, 2362, or contact any member of the Guild.

Mrs. Homer McKee is chairman of the decorating committee; Mrs. Frank Partridge is chairman of the gift committee; and Mrs. Harrison Leussler is chairman of the gift wrapping committee.

The turkey dinner will be served by Jack Boyer.

Style Show Theme is Oriental

"East Meets West" will theme tomorrow's luncheon, style show at El Mirador, when Rags from Bess Bender will present a collection of new fashions styled by Eta Lee.

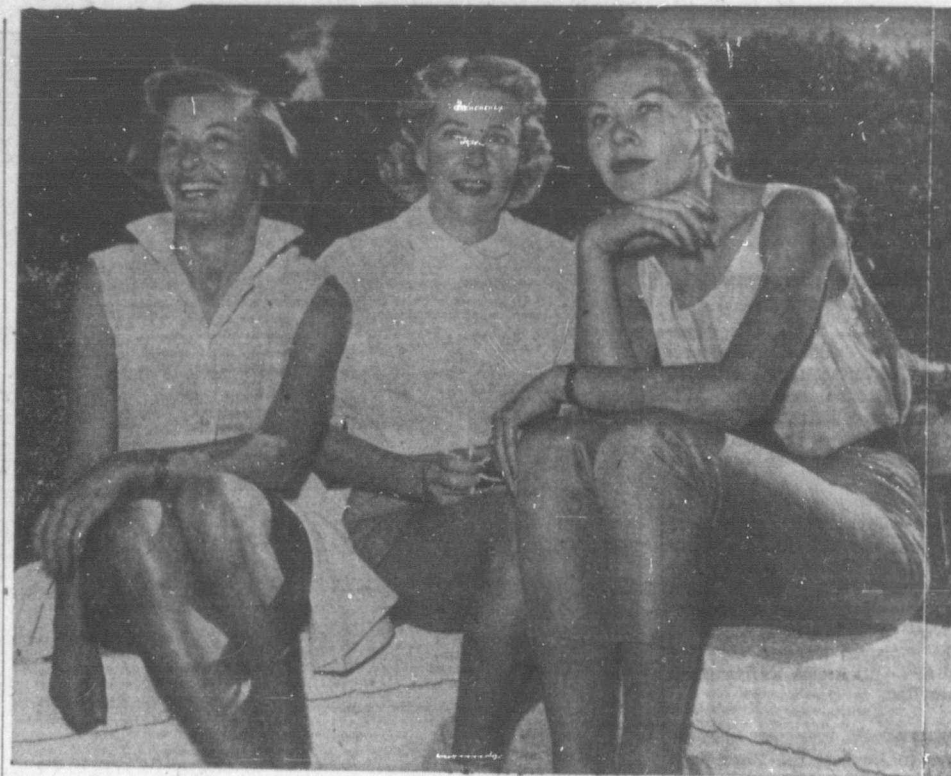

Miss Lee, noted lecturer turned designer, will personally commentate the show. She recently coauthored Miss Jennifer Jones in Chinese-English for the film "Love is a Many-Splendored Thing". The film has been one of the deciding influences that has the Oriental trend on the upswing.

The collection will include daytime and evening sheaths with the exotic flavour of the East translated for American women, and will also include the intimate and dramatic lounging robes.

Reservations for the one o'clock luncheon, which will feature Chinese cuisine, may be made by calling El Mirador at 2044, or Rags from Bess Bender at 2579.

Etha Cote was on vacation from her duties as teacher in the local high school from Wednesday through Sunday and went to Inglewood to be with friends.

Dorothy Hall of 1322 Camino Anapola, spent the past four days in Los Angeles visiting with relatives and friends. Miss Hall is a teacher in the local high school.

Reuther Views CIO-AFL Union with Rosy Eyes

By JACK WOLISTON
United Press Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, (AP) — CIO President Walter Reuther today fore-saw in the forthcoming merger of his organization and the AFL "great new opportunities" for labor to express itself effectively in almost every facet of American life.

In his annual report to the 17th CIO convention, which opens here tomorrow, the CIO chief painted a rosy future for the new "American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations." The merger is scheduled to be approved Monday when the new AFL-CIO begins its inaugural convention.

REUTHER'S REPORT took occasion to lambast the Republican administration and the 84th Congress, which, he said, "to date has not yet measured up to the mandate of the 1954 elections." But he added that the Congress "was handicapped by the absence of real leadership from the White House and by actual obstacles created by administration forces."

Reuther warned that the steps taken toward merging 16,100,000 union members into one organization "do not provide in themselves guarantees of future success."

"If we make of unity only the convenience and comfort of the status quo, unity will do little to advance the cause of labor and to build a better America for our people," Reuther said. "But if we meet the challenges, if our new organization is based on the dynamics of growth, we will be able to make real and tangible progress."

HE SAID THE merged organization would "set the stage" for a great organizing campaign and would be "more effective" in Congress and the State Legislatures.

"As citizens, we will be better able to elect the best possible candidates for public office," Reuther said. "We will be devoted and effective in working for a rising standard of living and an economy of abundance . . . we can work for the strengthening of civil liberties and of civil rights; we can fight corruption, intolerance, discrimination and totalitarianism far more effectively than at any point in the past."

The CIO, at its convention, and the AFL, which also is holding a two-day convention here prior to the merger meeting Monday, are expected to approve the proposed AFL-CIO constitution with only minor changes. The changes are expected to be agreed on by both groups when they meet Monday.

Paternity Suit Against Hartford Dismissed

LOS ANGELES, (AP) — A Superior Court suit seeking to compel grocery chain heir Huntington Hartford II, 44, to acknowledge paternity of a 17-year-old boy has been dismissed without explanation.

The suit had been filed against Hartford in behalf of Edward Barton Colt by his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Florence Barton Brangenberg, 60.

According to the suit, a son was born to Mary Barton on August 8, 1938, when she was a 22-year-old nightclub dancer. She died in New York in 1941 from an apparent overdose of sleeping pills.

Highway Safety Head Pays Traffic Fine

BERLIN, Conn. (AP) — William V. Veale, secretary of the National Foundation for Highway Safety, was fined $15 Tuesday night after pleading guilty to illegally passing on a right-passing motorists.

He was arrested last weekend by a state trooper during a crackdown on right-passing motorists.

He told the arresting officer, "You're doing a tremendously good job."

TUESDAY EVENING at 7, Desert Schooner, a group of the Mariners Club at Community Church, met for a hayride and dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Richard VanderVeer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sorenson were in charge of the dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Crockett and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Williams helping. The group were welcomed after the ride and tables set with red and white checked clothes, added to the gay western party. The dinner was held at the south end of Palm Canyon. After dinner Cliff Campbell entertained the group with songs and led in campfire songs. A business meeting was conducted by Frank and Lorna Little. Skippers. Those present were: Messrs and Mmes. William Alcorn, Bill Lux, Charles McDonald, James H. Blackstone, Jr., Frank Miller, Bob Laundry, Robert Avildsen, Charles McFarland, Frank Hendrickson, Frank Little, Merrill Williams, Frank Sorenson, Richard VanderVeer, Merrill Crockett, William Ford; Mrs. Dorothy Laughlan, Ethel Carroll, Ruth O'Bert, Vera Biss, Mabel Russell, Bessie Isbell, Mabel Ostberg, and Cliff Campbell.

Rivera Enters Not Guilty Plea to Manslaughter

Reuben Madaid Rivera, 21, charged with manslaughter and gross negligence so as to cause the death of his wife, Herminia, 19, in a four-car collision Friday night near Araby point, pleaded not guilty to the charge yesterday and will face a preliminary hearing next week in justice court.

Judge Eugene Theriault set bail for Rivera at $1,000, and instructed Rivera to appear Tuesday, December 6, at 10 a.m.

The charge resulted from the Friday night accident in which his wife was killed. His 15-month-old son, Paul Rangel, 50, Palm Springs; Constance Meeks, 49, Rancho Mirage, and Dolores Joseph and Petra Garcia, of Coachella, who were riding in Rivera's car, were injured.

Chinese Release POW Turncoat

HONG KONG, (AP) — The British Embassy in Peiping has informed the U.S. government that turncoat war prisoner Richard R. Tenneson, 22, Alden, Minn., will be released by the Communist Chinese, it was disclosed today.

The message from Peiping said Tenneson would cross the border from Red China to Hong Kong today. He did not appear, but observers said he may show up tomorrow.

Tenneson was understood to have wanted to leave Red China ever since three other turncoat war prisoners returned last July. They were Cpl. William A. Cewart, Monticello, Ark.; Cpl. Otho G. Bell, Hillsboro, Miss., whose wife lived in Olympia, Wash.; and Cpl. Lewis W. Griggs, Jacksonville, Texas.

Tenneson was among a group of 23 American servicemen who refused repatriation in the prisoner exchange at the end of the Korean War.

Thousand Fold

RAILROAD GENERAL AGENTS are greeted by Dewey Metzendorf to his Oasis Hotel as they start their annual convention. Metzendorf shakes hands with George Buckley, of Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad, as other general agents from Los Angeles area look on. They met in Palm Springs to acquaint themselves with facilities of this resort so they'll know what they are selling to passengers of their various railroads. Others include, from left, Robert McAllister, of Santa Fe; Charles Tanner, who provided transportation for the 35 convening passenger agents; Carroll Huff, of Rock Island Line; Doug Seaman, Pennsylvania Railway, and Sanford Cooper, local Southern Pacific agent. Metzendorf holds an annual pass from the Alaska Railway which reads, "To all stations."

Railroad Agents Meet in Village on Annual Visit

Railroad General Agents Association held a luncheon meeting at Oasis Hotel Tuesday, with 35 general passenger agents in the group which left Los Angeles at 9 a.m. by Tanner bus and arrived here shortly after 12.

Doug Seaman, of the Pennsylvania Railway, is president of the association. Richard Mercer of New York Central is chairman of arrangements, and Robert McAllister of Santa Fe is secretary-treasurer.

The association, following the luncheon, toured the Village.

Truman Heads East After State Blast at Republicans

By JAMES O'NEILL
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO, (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman left today for Kansas City after charging the Republicans "have just about ruined the country."

Mr. Truman made this charge at a press conference yesterday prior to addressing a $100 a plate dinner on behalf of the Truman Library at Independence, Mo.

The ex-President was a model of decorum at the dinner, praising Chief Justice Earl Warren and former President Herbert Hoover. But he had plenty to say to reporters.

HE WAS ASKED if he was disturbed by Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall's statement that President Eisenhower may run for reelection.

"Not at all," he said. "I don't care who runs. The Democrats are going to win in any event because the Republicans have just about ruined the country and the government."

Mr. Truman said he was going to refrain from criticizing President Eisenhower, saying "I've been President and I've been criticized while I was doing my job. I know how it is."

But he promised he would be in there "pouring it on" when campaign time comes around. He said he'll "have plenty to say about everybody."

Obviously enjoying himself, Truman leaned forward and told the newsmen:

"You know, I've always liked you boys from the working press. I never mind how rough you get, because you've always been honest."

"But it's those fellows who do the rewrite, the blue pencil boys and the policy makers on the newspapers that have always given me trouble."

HE SAID THE trouble was that "rich" people own newspapers and

"any man who's rich is a Republican." That was why, he added, Democrats don't always get a fair break in the newspapers.

Fear 15 Dead in Crash of Jet Plane Into Apartment

EIELSON AIR FORCE BASE, Alaska (AP) — Authorities feared today that as many as 15 persons were killed in an eight-family apartment which was sliced by a crashing F84F Thunderjet.

Only nine bodies had been taken from the ice-coated, charred ruins of the dwelling occupied by the families of eight enlisted airmen but searchers believed more were in the rubble.

"The death toll could go as high as 15," Major John Orr, public information officer for Eielson AFB, Alaska's only Strategic Air Command base, said.

SIX OF THE SEVEN persons injured in Tuesday's tragedy were in critical condition.

A terrified young woman, Pamela Harris, 21, sobbed as she described the force of the plane's impact.

"I saw one woman with her arm torn off," Miss Harris, daughter of an enlisted couple, said. "It was horrible."

The only identified victim of the tragedy was the pilot of the jet plane, Lt. Alfred F. Pounders, 28, of Monticello, Miss. His body was recovered.

Eyewitnesses said Pounders' plane, which had just taken off from Eielson AFB, skimmed over base headquarters and struck the housing project like a giant bowling ball. It ripped the apartment building from one end to the other before exploding and bursting into flames.

THE PLANE, after cutting through the enlisted men's quarters, stopped only four inches from an officers' dwelling, as though conscious of rank.

"The plane came over very low, right over the headquarters building where I was working," one enlisted man said. "We knew it was in trouble. You could tell by the way it sounded."

"We saw a big puff of smoke and flame. Then the whole headquarters building shook, following a tremendous explosion. Flames and smoke poured out of the windows and doors of the buildings. Wreckage was scattered all around."

The crash occurred when children were home from school shortly before 1 p.m. AST. Firemen turned into human icicles as water from their hoses drenched them and froze. Air Force men and Army troops relieved regular firefighters who became encased in a coating of ice.

FRED A. SORRI, a civilian plumber, had just finished an installation in one of the buildings shattered by the plane.

"It bounced off the roofs of two buildings, setting them afire, and then plunged right through the dwelling," he said.

Orr said the pilot apparently had control failure.

"He tried to avoid hitting the houses, but he couldn't get much altitude," Orr said.

Orr said no official statement on the final death toll would be released for 48 hours and names of the victims would not be released until then.

PALM DESERT

By GRETCHEN CHEESEMAN

A crowded and festive Thanksgiving Day was in order at Shadow Mountain Club. There were 526 dinners served from noon until 9 p.m. Some of the parties were hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Douglas, with 16 guests, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hanson, 14 guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Cornelius three superstitious away and entertained for 12! Eleven guests were with the Harry Taylors, 10 with Mr. and Mrs. Fay Brainard, 12 with the J. Allen McKinnons. Small parties included the Dan Potter family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bibbe, Mr. and Mrs. William Brooks, the Ronald Buttons and Fred Andrews. Edith Eddy Ward and her mother entertained Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hughes of Richmond, Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. P. Wovington of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith and Miss Leif Erickson.

Shadow Mountain Club dinner guests had a musical treat on Friday and Saturday evening. A young pianist, only 17 and still in high school, David Carlson, of Portland, Oregon, really proved to be a virtuoso! He won a musical scholarship on the Horace Heidt Talent program and has appeared on TV with Libera's "Sincerely Yours" program.

Mrs. Isabelle Belyea, owner of the famous Poolside "Clothes Horse" has interesting weekend guests—Sam Kahanamoko, of Hawaii, nephew of the famous swimmer "Duke" of the same name, Mr. and Mrs. E. Winston of Pasadena and Dr. Olin Woodrum of Pasadena.

Mrs. Charlotte Steward and Mrs. Bobbie Reichert spent a week in Scottsdale. They visited Camel Back and Wickenburg as well.

Mr. and Mrs. Mario Chamlee of Hollywood spent several days here, guests of Mrs. Bell Grant. The Chamlee's son and wife, Arch and Bea will spend all this week on the desert.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elgood entertained northern visitors over Thanksgiving—Mr. and Mrs. John Wiley of San Jose, who proved to be real desert enthusiasts!

The Sun Lodge Colony had many guests over the weekend—the Joe Gokey Lodge was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Lee Klingerman and family of Los Angeles. Mr. Klingerman is with the western division of the Structo Toy Co. owned by Mr. Gokey. Mrs. Frank Bireley and daughter, Christine,

Two Zoning Law Revisions Asked by Supervisors

RIVERSIDE —The county board of supervisors sent two proposed amendments of the county zoning ordinance to the Riverside county planning commission this week.

The amendments included the addition of a planning director to the officials in charge of enforcement of zoning regulation; and would amend the section of the ordinance dealing with interim zones, and change the fee requirements for appeal.

The planning commission is given 40 days to hold a hearing, and if they do not do so within that time, the supervisors, according to law, may take it for granted that the changes are recommended by the commission. The supervisors are then required to hold a hearing themselves.

The proposed changes came up earlier this month when the supervisors charged that matters referred to the planning commission by them were not being acted upon.

Gem Society to Have Dinner, Hear Nomads

A pot-luck dinner is scheduled for the Shadow Mountain Gem and Mineral Society at 6:30 p.m., Friday, December 2, at Palm Desert Community Church.

Following the dinner at 8 p.m., the Desert Nomads—Verl, Donna and Kathy Martin—will give another of their graphic lectures. Highlighted with color slides, the lecture "Beyond Picacho" pertains to an area rich in gem material, the story of the Lost Mule Shoe Mine and the old ghost town of Tumco.

The area on which the lecture is based is extremely beautiful in geological formations and rock strata and makes for a highly interesting talk on this colorful volcanic region.

The following morning, December 3, the Desert Nomads will lead the Gem and Mineral Society into this "Land Beyond Picacho" and for two days, as group leaders, they will point out places of beauty, interesting geological formations, the area's flora and fauna, plus ancient Indian campsites.

Garden Tools Stolen, Report

THOUSAND PALMS —Riverside sheriff deputies reported today that $60 worth of garden tools were stolen from a storage room at 31-75 Arbol Real in Shangri-la Palms.

The theft was reported by Sy Raske of Los Angeles, son-in-law of the victimized resident owner. Missing items included a shovel, spade, hoe, two rakes, lawnmower and two 50-foot garden hoses.

Entry into the shed was made by breaking of the hasp.

Imperial Schools End Segregation

EL CENTRO, Cal. — Imperial Valley school officials have agreed to set up school zones on a population basis and not to grant students transfers because of their race, color or creed.

The agreement came about in a pre-trial hearing which was prompted by a suit charging racial segregation existed in the schools. A stipulation to dismiss the suit instigated by 22 parents of Negro and Mexican students was filed Monday in U.S. District Court in San Diego.

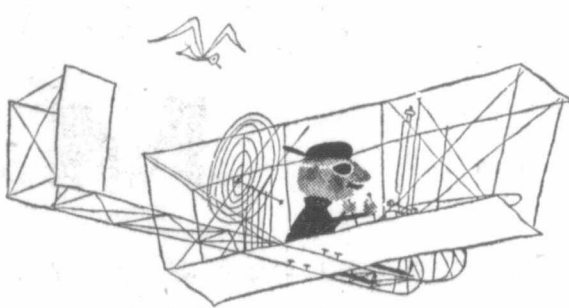

The suit had charged school officials with segregating Negro and Mexican students and Negro teachers.

About 40 percent of the school population in the Imperial Valley is Mexican-American and 15 percent is Negro. Under terms of an agreement officials agreed to establish zones on population basis and not to make transfers because of racial differences.

ON THE SUNAIR SCREEN tonight is one of the most discussed motion pictures of the time, "Rebel Without Cause," a challenging drama of today's juvenile violence, starring James Dean. Dean, who was one of Hollywood's most promising stars, was killed last month in a traffic collision on his way to a sports car race. He has one picture yet to be released, "Giant," Co-featured with "Rebel Without Cause" is "The Gun That Won the West" with Dennis Morgan.

School Project on Board Agenda

CATHEDRAL CITY — On the agenda of the Palm Springs Unified School district meeting to be held tomorrow evening, the board of education will award the contract for construction of the Cathedral City school additions.

Late last week, local parents held a meeting at the school to protest the rumor that the sixth grade students would be sent to Calhulla school in Palm Springs for the remainder of the school year, but Schools Supt. Wallace R. Mueller announced that the district was converting the cafeteria into temporary classrooms, and hiring a new teacher to teach half of the sixth grade class.

At present the sixth grade class has 39 students registered.

LA QUINTA — A public hearing on the proposed zoning plan for this area will come up before the County Planning Commission tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in La Quinta. The commission will have dinner, preceding the meeting, at the Shadow Mountain Club.

Ballots Sent on Change in Street Names

CATHEDRAL CITY — The Chamber of Commerce, in answer to many requests to change the names of the alphabetically designated streets of this community to something more euphonious, today announced that they have sent out to property owners of the area a ballot listing probable names for the new streets.

The ballots list three choices for new names on each lettered street now existing within the community. The present streets run from A to H, and the proposed names are the Spanish and Indian words for plants, descriptive words, and Indian tribes.

The ballot is printed on a postal card for return to the Chamber

Thunderbird Invitational Dec. 12 to 18

Leading Amateurs to Compete Here in Three Events

The Sixth Annual Thunderbird Invitational for Amateurs is set for December 12 through 18 and will include three separate events. With each event limited to 150 players, and entry applications accepted no later than December 5, next Monday, there will be a total of 126 holes.

LAST YEAR'S winner, Dr. Bud Taylor, 1954-55 California Amateur Champion, is expected to defend his title. The first event will consist of 54 holes for golfers with handicaps of nine or more. A practice round and prize awards will take up the first three days, December 12, 13 and 14.

The second round, Thursday, December 15, will be the Senior Championship 18 holes. There will be prizes for low gross and net as well in the other two events. Four classes of Seniors include: 55-59; 60-64; 65-69, and 70 years and older.

HOWARD CASSIDY, "Hopalong" of Ohio State, tabbed as the "greatest back of the century," has been selected as the 1955 winner of the Heisman Memorial Trophy, awarded annually by the Downtown Athletic Club of New York to the outstanding player of the year.

Basilio Camp Suspicious of Betting Coup

Even Money Talk Worries Manager of Welter Champ

How They Stack Up

BOSTON (UPI) — Here is the tale-of-the-tape for tonight's Carmen Basilio-Tony DeMarco welterweight title fight: DeMarco Basilio

Age	Weight	Height	Reach	Chest	Chest normal	Chest expanded	Waist	Neck	Thigh	Calf	Ankle	Biceps	Wrist	Forearm
23	147	5-6 1/2	67	37 1/2	39 1/2	39 1/2	29 1/2	16 1/2	14 1/2	10 1/2	13 1/2	13 1/2	13 1/2	13 1/2
28	147	5-6 1/2	67	37 1/2	39 1/2	39 1/2	29 1/2	16 1/2	14 1/2	10 1/2	13 1/2	13 1/2	13 1/2	13 1/2

BOSTON — Handlers of welterweight champion Carmen Basilio were suspicious of a betting coup today as "even money" was surprisingly quoted for the first title defense against ex-champ Tony DeMarco in their return bout tonight at Boston Garden.

Co-managers Johnny De John and Joe Netto asked the Massachusetts Boxing Commission for reassurances of a square deal for 28-year-old Carmen.

"I simply can't understand it," said De John. "Last June, 'Carmen' was favored at 9-5 for their first fight at Syracuse, N. Y. And he took the title from De Marco on a technical knockout in the 12th round. Yesterday morning he was favored at 8-5. Now it's even money. What gives?"

COMMISSIONER HENRY Lamar told De John, "No news about the referee or judges could have leaked out of the commission because we haven't yet made up our minds about who will officiate tonight."

Bookies said the swing to the 23-year-old De Marco was caused by rumors that rangy, raw-boned Basilio had weakened himself paring down toward the 147-pound limit. Also because stocky young Tony should be in much better condition than for their first fight on June 10.

THE CHAMPION, seeking his 12th straight victory, had been favored because his savage hooking attack wilted De Marco after the seventh round. Tony was on the floor twice in the 10th.

The dynamic, black-haired son of a former Boston shoemaker had one bout since he lost his crown in June. On Sept. 14 he knocked out Chico Vejar in the first round. That victory brought his record to 41-5-1, including 26 knockouts. He was stopped three times. Basilio fought twice since he won the title, outpointing Italo Scorticini and Gil Turner. His career list of 47-11-7 includes 21 kayoes. He was never stopped.

baseball to do anything about the bonus rule.

Frank Lane, who favored the unrestricted draft of bonus players after a year of service at the 1954 legislative meetings, was expected to change his stand when he switched from the White Sox to the Cardinals. But despite the vast number of farm kids in the St. Louis organization who might be grabbed in an unrestricted draft, he has persuaded his St. Louis officials to go along with his support of the bonus draft.

Littler Signs Up to Defend Title in L.A. Tourney

Defending Champion Gene Littler of San Diego and Palm Springs today became the first golfer to sign an entry blank for the 30th annual Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament, President Harold Vogel of the sponsoring Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce announced.

The winter's richest links event is scheduled January 5-8, 1956, at the Rancho Course in West Los Angeles. It will carry prize money of $30,000. Additionally, there will be a $2,500 pro-amateur celebrity event.

Littler won the 1955 L. A. Open at Inglewood by two strokes and then went on to have a banner year, finishing as the fourth leading money winner of the year. Youthful Gene totalled $29,000, including a husky $6,000 from the Los Angeles Open and first money in Wilbur Clark's Desert Inn Tournament of Champions in Las Vegas.

The handsome San Diegan is hailed by many golfing experts as one of the great stars of the sport. Some go so far as to tab him as the "next Ben Hogan."

Nearly all of the nation's leading pros are expected to begin the winter swing in the Los Angeles Open, reported Chairman Sam Stern.

Arnett Says SC Top Team in '56

LOS ANGELES — Jon Arnett, Southern California's brilliant basketball star who made the United Press' first-string All-American team, said today SC is going to be a top team next year.

"We are going to start from here in 1956," he said. "This is the beginning."

The Trojans will get back 22 of the 36 players who routed Notre Dame this year, including the backfield that scored 21 points against the Irish in only 18 minutes — Arnett, Ellis Kissing, C. R. Roberts and Don Hickman.

JESS HILL NAMED AS UP COACH OF THE WEEK

By ALEX KAHN
United Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, — He was laughed at when he quit coaching track to take over his first head coaching job in college football four years ago.

He was laughed at again only two weeks ago when he was handed in effigy on his own campus.

But Jess Hill, the United Press Coach of the Week, got the last laugh when his Southern California Trojans sprung one of the season's biggest upsets last Saturday by mauling Notre Dame, 42-20. Southern Cal never had beaten the Irish in their annual windup game since Hill took over the coaching reins from Jeff Cravath in 1951. This season, the Trojans reached the Notre Dame battle with an undistinguished 5-4 won and lost record, while the Irish had an 8-1 mark.

BUT HILL, IGNORING the 10-point odds against his team, flatly predicted a victory over the Irish. "I told them they were going out to win, not for me, but for themselves," he disclosed later. "I wanted them to have something to remember this season."

Southern Cal battled its way to a 21-7 lead in the first half only to have Notre Dame reduce that margin to one point early in the final period. Then quarterback Jim Contratto completed a pair of touchdown passes for the Trojans and All-American halfback Jon Arnett added another score before time ran out.

But the real hero was Jess Hill, who believes "the psychological approach in athletics is the most important part of the game."

Enright Scoffs at Firing Report

COLUMBIA, S. C., — Rex Enright, who serves as football coach and athletic director at the University of South Carolina, today dismissed reports that Maryland assistant Warren Giese may replace him as head coach and said that he doubted any announcement would be made until January "anything that might be said or written now might prove wrong later," he said.

Victoria Play Begun

RIVERSIDE — The Victoria Club holds its first Senior Invitational Golf Tournament Thursday and Friday with more than 100 entries from clubs throughout Southern California.

It was this positive thinking more than anything else that convinced Southern Cal it could beat Notre Dame.

And, indirectly, it enabled Jess Hill to get the last laugh on the last Saturday of the 1955 season.

USF Picked to Capture National Hoop Title Again

NEW YORK — The University of San Francisco's defending NCAA basketball champions, led by All-American Bill Russell, were picked today by an overwhelming vote of the United Press Board of Coaches to win the national title once again.

In a near-unanimous display of sentiment, 33 of the 35 outstanding coaches who will rate the college basketball teams weekly for the United Press during the coming season voted Phil Woolpert's Dons as the best bet for 1955-56.

North Carolina State was the top pre-season choice of one coach and St. Louis University was selected by another. Of the two coaches who did not vote for San Francisco one picked the West Coast Dons third and the other seventh. On a point basis, that gave San Francisco 342 out of a possible total of 350.

San Francisco was picked as the nation's No. 1 team last season after winning 23 out of 24 games during the regular campaign. The Dons then lived up to their top ranking by winning the NCAA championship at Kansas City, beating LaSalle in the final, 77-63.

Kentucky, which has a perennial basketball powerhouse under Coach Adolph Rupp, was picked as the No. 2 team in the coaches' pre-season sizeup, followed by Utah, North Carolina State and Iowa. Dayton was picked No. 6; Illinois and UCLA were tied for seventh, with Duquesne's 1955 National Invitation Tournament champions ninth and George Washington tenth.

Columbia, Pennsy Renew Grid Rivalry

NEW YORK, — Columbia University will renew its football rivalry next season with the University of Pennsylvania. The Quakers, who last met the Lions in 1952, replace Navy on the Columbia schedule announced Tuesday.

MODERN GOLF

By DALE ANDREASON
Golf Instructor at El Mirador Hotel

I receive many questions on the correct grip so we will go over it again.

In order to control the club properly, the golfer must have a strong foundation in the left side. To help set this up, he must grip the club across the roots of the fingers of the left hand—in other words, use a palm grip.

Next step is to place the right hand on the club just like you were going to shake hands with it. Do not grip tight with the right.

When I am playing well, I am not aware of the right hand on the club. The little finger of the right hand sets in between the knuckles of the forefinger and middle finger of the left hand. This sets the hands together as a unit.

Practice this until you can do it automatically and your grip will give you little trouble thereafter.

High School Highlights

(This column of High School news, submitted by the Journalism class, is written by Dixie Vogels)

Last Tuesday, November 22, this year's freshmen were given their first chance to shine around the campus of Palm Springs High school. They are now competing against the Sophomore class in the annual magazine subscription sale.

Many worthwhile and interesting prizes are being awarded this year to the students who sell the most subscriptions. For example: a blinker lantern, a six-piece dresser set for girls, a Parker "21" pen, a radio and some very nice watches. The Sophomore class and the Freshmen class are divided individually into teams headed by captains who are assisted by lieutenants.

THE G.A.A. PRESENTED the "Date With Dad" night last Tuesday, November 22. It was loads of fun with all the girls participating against their fathers in a rousing game of volleyball. The first event of the evening was a basketball game between the junior and the senior G.A.A. girls. The seniors reigned victorious. The end of the evening was highlighted by delicious coffee and donuts.

This year, as every year, our yearbook, Chia, is on sale. This yearbook is sold four times a year. If it is purchased now it is about 75 cents less than at a later date. Miniature photographs were sold just recently to the students wishing to buy them and trade them with their friends, relatives, pen pals.

THIS WEEK a certain chemistry test was found, but not in a chemistry room. The whole test was based on definitions. The students who tried the test found it to be a real stumper. Cover the answers and try the questions.

Judge Therieau Joins Appeal for Safe Driving Practice

Obedience to traffic laws can make every day S-D Day! Reminding citizens of S-D Day, to be held here tomorrow, Judge Eugene E. Therieau of Palm Springs Justice Court urged that all citizens cooperate to make Safe-Driving an every day practice.

"It is high time," Judge Therieau said, "that motorists and pedestrians recognize the fact that traffic laws and regulations are made for their protection."

"TOO MANY PEOPLE are inclined to regard traffic laws and regulations as restrictions on their personal freedom and to ignore them whenever it suits their convenience."

The judge branded as suicidal the current disregard of traffic laws so prevalent throughout the country. Almost all traffic accidents, he said, occur when one or more traffic laws is violated by motorists, pedestrians or both.

"It has been estimated," Judge Therieau said, "that if every driver and pedestrian observed traffic laws and regulations and safe walking and driving rules, the annual traffic toll would be reduced between 85 and 90 per cent."

POINTING OUT THAT S-D day should be an every day occurrence, the jurist listed five acts that are high on the list of traffic law violations and urged motorists to practice rigid obedience. The five acts listed by the judge include:

Exceeding a safe speed. Failure to give a car on the right the right of way at intersections.

Failure to give pedestrians already in the cross walk the right of way.

Not coming to a full stop at stop signs.

Ignoring a red light or a school zone slow sign.

"I am convinced," Judge Therieau said, "that if all our drivers would obey these five traffic rules, all legal and punishable for failure to obey, by the way, we should have no difficulty in continuing the practice of Safe-Driving every day in Palm Springs."

Spaghetti Dinner, Fall Frolic Dance Enjoyed by SPL

The Sigma Phi Lambda held a Spaghetti dinner Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Kolpacoff for all the members and alumni.

The dinner of spaghetti and meatballs, tossed green salad, and garlic bread, which was served buffet style, was enjoyed by the members and dates.

After the dinner all the guests went to the Playhouse for the Youth Coordinating Council dance "Fall Frolic." Another party will be held in December.

Square Dancing Classes Changed

Due to numerous requests for longer square dancing classes, the City Recreation Department has decided to cancel its advanced square dancing class from 8:30 to 11 p.m., and have the square dancing classes run from 8 to 10 p.m. Recreation director Howard Haddock announces.

"There are so many square dances within the city limits sponsored by private clubs and trailer parks we thought it would be better to sponsor longer square dancing classes," Haddock explained. The class will be held the same place, Frances Stevens School and on the same night, Monday. Admission is by donation.

Round Dancing Class Scheduled

A new round dancing class will be held every Wednesday night from 8 to 10 p.m. at the club house on the Polo Grounds parking lot, Recreation department director Howard Haddock announces.

The instructor will be Sam Jossell. There will be no admission charge. The class is limited, all persons interested are asked to register as soon as possible.

This is another event sponsored by the City Recreation Department.

JayCee Decals Distributed to 50 Businessmen

The current project of the Palm Springs Junior Chamber of Commerce, that of distributing to merchants window decals that read "Open All Year" is progressing nicely, according to JayCee committee chairman Bill Bronstein.

This week the JayCee's distributed fifty more of the signs to local businessmen. The project is being aided by the Retail Merchants Di-

The project, which was started to acquaint visitors with the fact that the Village does not close during the Summer months, has been in the planning stages for the past year.

Compton Faces Petticoat Crisis

COMPTON (AP)—Compton College's football team may have to go into the Junior Rose Bowl game against Jones County College of Ellisville, Miss., without its half-time marching entertainers.

The Comettes, a group of 50 marching girls, have all lost their petticoats. The specially-made undergarments bounced off a truck after Compton's last game and were lost.

Chess Game Set for Wednesdays

Chess games sponsored by the City Recreation department will be played every Wednesday afternoon, starting at 2 p.m., at the white clubhouse located on the Palm Springs Polo Grounds parking lot.

Daniel Snyder, Lot B52, Rancho Trailer Park, will be chairman of the activity. Additional information may be obtained from him or the City Recreation department, phone 2202.

Too Young

STORRS, Conn., (AP) — Cussin' can get you kicked out of the University of Connecticut — if you're under 21. The university recently adopted a new policy that prescribes suspension for students under 21 who are heard using "profane or vulgar language."
